Ethical Consumption- CRES Day 16th November 2024

Apologies for the delay in getting this out. We have had a few difficulties in finalising our programme. Our next CRES in-person day (open to all) is on Saturday 16th November 2024 at Ripon College Cuddesdon (RCC) near Oxford. Our speaker is Jo Herbert-James (Head of Engagement at A Rocha UK). Jo has a particular interest in ethical consumption. So book early with Lynda to ensure your place (details below).

PROVISIONAL PROGRAMME

10.00-10.30 Arrive and Coffee.

10.30-10.45 Welcome and Introductions (Philip Wagstaff)

10.45-12.00 Jo Herbert-James will speak on "To Consume or To Not Consume? A Christian's Guide to Ethical Consumption during an ecological crisis"

12.00-12.15 Break

12.15-12.45 Book Launch "The Ethics of Environmental Management" (Martin and Margot Hodson)

12.45-13.00 Free Time

13.00-14.00 Lunch

14.00-15.15 Jo Herbert-James will speak on "Ethical Consumption: Spiritual Habits and Practical Action Fuelled by Hope"

15.15-15.30 CRES News (Simon Brown)

15.30-15.45 Short Service

15.45-16.00 Tea and depart.

Booking For CRES students, tutors, and steering group, the day is included in student fees. The fee for those not associated with the CRES course will be £25. But EVERYONE wanting to come MUST book with the CRES Administrator, Lynda McKeown, by 10th November at the latest. Email cres@jri.org.uk Further details will be sent out to those who have booked in November.

Jo Herbert-James serves with A Rocha UK, working to engage the church and Christians in caring for God's creation. She also lectures at Moorlands Bible College and is a Deputy Leader for the World Evangelical Alliance Mission Commission, focusing on creation care. Having founded The Justice Conference UK and worked with Tearfund for 16 years, she is passionate about equipping Christians to engage practically and theologically with issues of social justice, sustainability, and care for creation. Living in South London with her husband Pete who leads a local church, Jo enjoys cooking, cycling, and working out sustainable ways of living – ask her about their zero-waste wedding!